No more Scab in Sheep.

The undersigned an old sheep farmer in the south of this province after many years of study in the pernicious infirmity of the scab, has at last discovered an infalible remedy against a sickness that in the body where it generally breaks out like a storm resisting all the remedies that to this time have been discovered,

This specific so simple in its application as great in its result, is preferable to all invented until now, it is cheaper than tobacco, and free from poisonous substances contained in all other remedies before invented.

With only one arrobe of my specific there is sufficient for the Scab of 800 or 1000 sheep, and at the low price of $ 160, I will facilitate all sheep farmers to retrive their sheep in a perfect state of healthiness; to make known this remedy and induce farmers to prove it, I have determined to sell small packages of one lb at $8 which I hold at every one's disposition who wants to prove its infalibility.

Instructions for its application will be given in the deposit of specific against the scab:

"Nil falsi audeat, nil veri non audeam dicere."—Cicero.

SUNDAY, MAY, 31 1863

NACION, NACIONAL, TRIBUNA, AND PROGRES.

With the very best intentions to remain at peace with our neighbours, we find ourselves obliged to protest against the foul play which has become a characteristic of the B. Ayrean press Notwithstanding the frequent attacks on all sides, we endeavor to make good faith a part of our programme: pity it is, our magnanimity is not reciprocated.

The "Nacion Argentina" has long aspired to become the most respectable paper in town, and gained wide sympathies among natives and foreigners. It is, we believe, the best written; but its avowed advocacy of filibusters, is the first black symptom of the chronic disease of this country. The fault is doubly serious, since this is the official organ of President Mitre, whom all peaceable citizens regarded as the champion of order and herald of industrial progress. Byron says "tis sweet to quarrel with a tiresome friend;" and we should prefer the animosity, rather than alliance, of the "Tribuna and Nacional."

But in parting company with the "Nacion," we regret to sunder the last tie between the foreign and native press. Our colleague feared to be taken for a 2nd edition of the "Reforma," if it made honorable mention of our paper: hence it charges us with injustice towards Flores at the very time that we give the D—L his due by publishing an impartial letter, in his defence. As further bad faith we find our leading article of Friday extracted, without acknowledgment, the editor of the "Nacion" expropriating our ideas, contra reglam.

The "Nacional" panders to a foolish prejudice, ridiculing Irishmen, who are one of the principal pillars of this State: it gives at full length an absurd disquisition on Ignorance by that brilliant genius, Capt. Mancilla, to a fashionable auditory at Rojas. Our readers will wonder where the lecturer got his statistics.

Ireland being the most ignorant country is most abundant in criminals; thus 1 in 500 is a prison-bird while in England where education is more common only 1 in 960 is a convict; and in Scotland and the United States, owing to superior enlightenment he scarcely finds 1 in 5,000.

It may appear ungenerous to deprive our English, Scotch, and American friends of so great a compliment; but as it is at the expense of Ireland, truth and patriotism jointly urge us to assert that Capt. Mancilla talks and writes in nubibus. It is not generally known, although incontrovertibly proved by English returns, that the percentage of persons who can read and write is much larger in Ireland than in England: it is admitted by all, that the middle classes in the former country receive an education superior to the same grade in any part of Europe or America. Nor is Mancilla's theory erroneous, but rather his application thereof: as Ireland is not backward in public instruction, so its criminal calendar is generally light. About a year ago almost all the country Judges were presented with white gloves, there being no criminal cases on the circuit.

At a later date, the Lancashire West Riding assize, for a population of about 1 million, had a heavier calender than the aggregate circuits of all Ireland (6 millions). Thank Heaven we want not such instructors as Capt. Mancilla; nor is it likely we shall take the "Nacional" as a pattern of public morality.

The "Tribuna" is true to its principles of disturbance and indecency; nor is its enlarged sheet sufficient to veil the mass of profligacy and bad faith. Read the paragraph about "Paraguayans going to Europe," in which the noblest act of President Lopez is converted into the channel of an insult! Take up the Domestic Cookery and Local Events, fit only for a kitchen fire! Examine the advertisement page, with dubious notices of Parteras, a meek invitation for cotton-seed (since M.M. Kerr & Grierson's stock was expended months ago), and sundry ingenious devices to fill up space, while declaring the daily papers too small for news.

Le Progrés is a nice name for our new French colleague. We hope his ideas will coincide with the soubriquet: although the Tribuna is far from attributes of Justice, the Nacional is antifederal in its tendencies, the Siglo is a thing of yesterday, the Reforma "Pacifica" is a regular fire-eater, the Nacion "Argentina" is published in a foreign printing office, the Eco de "Cordoba" is a B. Ayrean reprint, the "Constitucional" of Mendoza advocates despotism, the "Ferro-Carril of Rosario is 300 miles from a railway locomotive, and most papers are actually misnomers (the reason that we adopted a name signifying nothing)

We regret our French friend has placed the "Standard" among a host of obscure prints, in which category he seems inclined to take a place. We should have welcomed him with ten-fold satisfaction if he disclaimed connection with the rabid anti-foreign organ, in which unfortunately he publishes his programme. Nevertheless we cannot prejudge a friend with such a good name; we rather hope to find a sincere and powerful ally, in the foreign interest, which will ensure Le Progrés a share of the popularity we are so happy to enjoy.

THE SITUATION.

SUNNY SIDE.

Buenos Ayres is going ahead at a rapid pace; her public balls are more magnificent than those of London or Paris, her streets are fast becoming adorned with 7 and 8 story houses, her hotels, railway establishments, barber shops, and even dry good stores, are on the Regent street and Broadway style. Such go aheadism never was known before in South America: even the youths of the city have caught the tide, and no small boy in town is seen promenading without a girl on his arm, or a five inch Havannah in his mouth. Our mole head is crowded with new arrivals, our Custom-house clerks cannot dispatch fast enough the costly silks, and satins, furs, crapes, kid gloves. perfumery, jewellery, &c. Money is easy, credit is good, life, gaiety and amusement prevail; the Colon is crowded to overflowing, every night that there is a performance. The jewellers boast that their stock of gold watches, trinkets, and brilliants is exhausted; the fashionable tailors and dress makers, have not slept three consecutive hours for the last 4 months; the coach proprietors boast that the "jarvey" business is the best in town, even the very editors of one of our newspapers complain of their prosperity; they are obliged to enlarge their paper to the size of a bed curtain, to find room for the flashy correspondence, poetry, leading articles, advertizements &c.

Our treasury is so flush that import duties are about to be reduced.

Our municipality has made so much money out of the Plaza lotteries, that half-a-dozen of new clerks are to be immediately employed

Our Policia has grown so fat on dog' ines, that we hear the vijilantes are all about to open private accounts with Mauá.

"En fin", our situation at the end of the week is so singularly prosperous and sunny, that it is the theme of conversation at our cigar shops, confiterias, billiard tables and club rooms: "the country is going ahead rapidly," is in every one's mouth: who dare doubt it?

CLOUDY SIDE.

The figures on the black board at the Bolsa are frightful.

The country is going to the d——l head foremost.

The Government is arming the steamers.

The soldiers are getting extra drill.

The Parque people are casting bullets.

Flores is going a-head in the Banda Oriental

The mole-head is crowded. Yes; not with immigrants, but with unhappy political refugees and runaway soldiers.

The custom house is very busy. Yes: not with clearing bales of wool, hides, &c, but with silks and such like, getting the country deeper and deeper in debt, and making the balance of trade greater against us.

The ball rooms are gay and magnificent, and crowded with fashionable young men and pretty girls; but the debtors' prison is also crowded, and the landlords cannot get their rents.

The municipality has made money out of the impoverished population, but the public sewers and water supply for the city, are as far off as ever, and the money,—every one asks what has become of it?

The fining system is still carried on, and the policia is rich and the policemen are well paid: but assassins escape, invaders leave our shores, and great criminals escape untouched whilst petty offenders are too severely punished.

The National treasury is flush, but the unpaid treasury bills are flying about town, and regarded as worthless, repudiated, securities; the duties are to be reduced but on what articles, is it on new iron, and such like; on wool, hides, jerked beef &c., alas, no! but to the Minister's shame, let it be said, on silks, satins, and perfumery. Buenos Ayres going ahead indeed; yes, but going ahead the wrong way.

The position of the country this day is truly alarming; indiscretion is hurrying us into war, extravagance into hopeless bankruptcy. In vain we preach peace, but we are laughed at—in vain we call for retrenchment and economy, but we see new tailors shops and perfumery establishments springing up all around us; the most unsaleable articles in Buenos Ayres, are spades and shovels: the most saleable: silks, satins kid gloves, and pomatum

The situation of the country is critical in the extreme; ounces are going up, revolutions becoming popular, peace laughed at, industry snubbed, and cotton planters and sheep-farmers, the most insignificant unimportant, portion of our society.

FLORES CAMPAIGN.

The Salto, which arrived yesterday at 12 o'c. was detained in Montevideo by order of the Government. A quantity of gunpowder was ordered to be shipped on board for Colonia, but the captain of the steamer refused to take it.

Flores has left Paisandu, and marched on Colonia, which it is rumoured he will take to-day.

It is right to observe that these are only rumours, and that we cannot guarantee them.

It is more than probable, however, that Flores has taken Paisandu, and if Medina does not impede the invader's progress, things look very bad.

We hear that Lamas has published an order that all Brazilians taken shall immediately have their throats cut. Revolting in the extreme is it to us to be obliged to publish such facts, but still more revolting is it to see a peaceable, happy country plunged into the horrors of an atrocious civil war

The Brazilian policy of fomenting this revolution merits our severest censure; but what will people think when they hear that Flores, who has lit up the flame of civil war in his native country, purchases assistance from the enemies of B. Oriental by extending the Brazilian frontier line to within a stone's throw of Salto? Yesterday we were informed, by a respectable person, that Flores is receiving money from Rio Grande!!!

In the Pueblo Entreriano we read that Flores did not take Paisandu, but that both he and Caraballo retired at full speed on the approach of the Government troops. This news was brought by a special 'chasque' to Sr Penilla of Gualeguaychu.

If this is true then Flores's march on Colonia seems premature.

We take the following important extract from a letter to a friend:

Paysandu, May 29th,

"General Flores, with his army, is encamped near the estancia, and about a league from my puesto. So I suppose we will have some fighting one of these days; but I don't think it will be an Alma or an Inkerman.

The streets round the Plaza are blockaded with water carts, barrels, sand, etc. I am going to town to-day —at least I am going to try it. Plowe's majordomo and one of his puesteros were turned back the other day when going in, They have got the Union Jack flying at the estancia, and S. C. has also got one on the top of his house. I wish I had one here, as it might be of service. If you knew of any one coming up here, you might send one. There were 5 Englishmen killed, it is rumored, a few leagues further out, about a fortnight ago—supposed to be by runaway soldiers, who were starving in the montes, and who came up during the night to steal sheep

TRINITY SUNDAY.

To-day is the titular festival of this city, which, like our streets and politics, has often changed in name though not in position.

When Mendoza founded the future capital—not anticipating D. Adolfo Alsina's opposition—and placed the big stone at corner of calles San Martin and Rivadavia, he called it "Santissima Trinidad." Subsequently, owing to the saluority of the climate, was added "de Buenos Ayres." or as some have it "de Varios Aires" Even in the last century, all official documents were dated "Stma Trinidad de Buenos Ayres,' by which title the Cathedral and Diocese are still called.

The name being too long, and the people not over religious, the 'Stma Trinidad' was suppressed, and 'Buenos Aires' remained.

Nevertheless, the festival is not quite forgotten, and there will be grand High Mass to-day at the Cathedral.

PUBLIC MORALS AND DECENCY.

To the Editor,....

The time has fully come when some one must lift up his voice and arouse the slumbering attention of your friend the Chief, the municipal body, or whomever else it may or ought to concern, to certain evils that stalk abroad at daylight and evince the melancholy fact that, with all our fine talk about advancing refinement and national progress, we are de, lorably deficient in some of the first principles that go to make up the general character of a truly great and generous people. It cannot fail to strike the most superficial amongst us, that our social body are not guided and influenced by motives inspired by a very high standard of philanthropy and of co-operation for the improvement of the lower classes. Hence we see or hear nothing of efforts being devised or attempted on the part of the enlightened and wealthy classes for the amelioration of their poorer brethren; and one of the most able and timely articles that have appeared from your pen was that on the "Absence of Public Spirit', amongst our capitalists and prominent men But to return from this digression: one of my objects in craving from you an audience is, to call, to beseech, to beg of whomsoever it ought to concern, that some vigilance be directed to the prevention of what may be called "afflictive" begging, which has increased in vogue at a fearful rate the last few months. The usual form this dodge takes is in the shape of a written appeal [usually quoting the licence of the competent authorities] on behalf of some supposed invalid, to the benevolent for financial assistance, and followed by the names of some ten or twelve who have yielded to so benevolent an impulse. I have been told that quite recently a very respectable sum was raised in this way, for two imaginary fires in Baraccas. Surely, Mr Editor, if there is a black hole within the precincts of the Policia, the authors of such deception should be thrust in and kept there. Another evil calls for some remedial measures, and yet from its nature it can scarcely be attended to: suffice, as a reference, that the irrigation of our side walks is becoming a perfect nuisance, and demands, for decency sake and on moral grounds, some decided measures for its correction

Leaving to your delicate pencil to touch the above into life,

I remain

A very Occasional Intruder

PUBLIC LANDS.

If it be the wish of Government to increase the population of the camp and thereby raise the only effectual barrier against the Indian, I very much doubt the policy, of doubling the price of land, will have the desired effect; the duty derived from a league of land well stocked, in five years would be more than the additional price lately put on, but as this duty would not go to the coffers of the Provincial exchequer, there is little hope of the decree being repealed; the Nation and the National Government are the losers. The price, in itself high, is not the only cost: we find those who have purchased public land, seldom obtain possession before two or three years after it is solicited and an instalment paid in; the individuals residing on it rarely give up possession without a lawsuit, as they are never at a loss for some trumpery claim, the court must hear their case; if the court decides against them, they frequently threaten the life of the unfortunate purchaser. Take into consideration the interest of the instalment paid in,—which is generally half the value when done through jobbers—the loss of time, the neglect of business, the expenses of the innumerable journeys such as a purchase occasions, consultation fees to lawyers on the thousand obstacles to be surmounted, and many other expenses accessory to such purchases, which if enumerated would perhaps offend the chaste ears of some. To prevent extortionary jobbing, to place Government land within the reach of a numerous class without obliging them to sell off stock to pay for it, and finally to enable the purchaser to take possession without fear of losing his life, I would suggest some such reglamentary Decree as the following.

1st. Any person residing on Govt. land, not being a bona fide tenant, who does not denounce it within one year from date loses all claim of preference &c,

2nd. 'Linderos' of public land, coming under the meaning of that mentioned in the previous article, who do not denounce and solicit them within the same term also lose their claim of preference &c.

3rd. After the expiration of the time specified, any person denouncing public land, not occupied by a bona fide tenant, has a claim of preference, under the following conditions: first, he must not be the person or persons alluded to in the 1st. and 2nd, articles; second, he must personally occupy the land he solicits, or have a direct interest in the land itself, and the stock or other capital placed on it.

4th. All Govt. land intended for sale will be first surveyed, the parties residing on it ejected, after which all tracts not having applicants will be advertised for sale; every area within the Salado comprising two or more leagues will be subdivided in lots of one league, preferring purchasers of such lots to purchasers of the entire area

5th. The Justice of the Peace of the district will put the purchaser in peaceable possession within one month after being solicited by purchaser.

6th. The purchaser has the option of paying for the land on receiving possession, or, in four equal instalments: the first in hand, and the others in one, two and three years, with six per cent annual interest

7th. Any person failing to pay an instalment when due, forfeits his right to the land; on which the Govt. may order a new sale, and return the previous purchaser one half the sum paid in by him.

Some such reglamentary Decree, would put Govt in possession of many tracts of land at present withheld, would drive jobbers and their subsequent lawsuits out of the market, would place public land on an even footing with private property, and would finally enable a great number of stock owners to deal on easy terms with Government. the time or credit allowed at present, is of little use to the estancieros, whose income is yearly and not monthly. Without some reform it is preposterous to suppose the actual estanciero will lose his time, (which from the nature of his business is his most valuable capital) lose his patience, and ultimately run the risk of losing his head; to get possession of what he eventually finds, will have cost him more than if he purchased private property of the same extent.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Mr. White, the Engineer of the Salado navigation, left in the packet for England; we were ignorant of this gentleman's departure, or we should have saluted him as a true friend of Argentine progress: his report is anxiously looked for in London, and, although we have little faith in the scheme ourselves, we should be very sorry willingly to allow such a distinguished gentleman to leave us unnoticed;

On Tuesday, nine new papers start into existence; to pay our devoirs to them all separately, would require a paper as big as the Tribuna; but we grasp them all by the hand, and give them a wholesale welcome. What the unfortunate citizens are going to do with such a number of newspapers we are at a loss to say; poor Lamastino, when he hears of this, and sees the present size of the Tribuna, will alter his opinion of Buenos Ayres.

The iron box found by the railway men, has not yet been opened: some say the difficulty is that the Fiscal won't attend, others that the claims of the finders want to be settled before hand. A constant crowd of people keep in the vicinity of the Policia, to watch when the box is opened; the vigilantes do their best to make the people move on, but the suspicious expressions and jeering taunts of some of the bystanders are so annoying, that the policemen regret, for having anything to do with the iron chest or its contents.

Our esteemed fellow countryman, Mr Henry Dowse, now that the steamboats have been taken from him, is determined to try his hand at a custom-house agency: he deserves the support of foreigners, and we trust will be patronized.

Yesterday, there was no Congress, collections bad, ounces in demand, paper money abundant.

Gen. Urquiza is amusing himself in Gualeguaychú; balls etc, are the order of the day; across the river, however the music is different: in Fray Bentos the greatest commotion exists, on account of the proximity of Flores.

Next Thursday will be a holiday—the festival of Corpus Christi.

The new Federal Court will shortly be opened. We have been informed by one of the judges that a meeting is held every day by the members of the court.

GUARDIA MONTE.

Our former Alcalde, Feliciano Figueroa, got a cut in his jaw in a Spanish pulperia; we are anxiously expecting some regulations, and reforms and juzgado: there appears to be no Alcalde for more than 4 months, we have got only an Alcalde interino, who cannot read nor write; they say Señor P is seldom in the juzgado, and leaves the managing to a Spanish store-keeper

All the chacras in the partido are offered for sale by the Municipilidad del Monte, but nobody appears to know how they are going to do it?

To day we had a beautiful mild rain all day; lately, nearly every night, a pretty heavy frost. Sheep and cattle recovering are just in time, and the camps look green; plenty of fat capones, but few buyers as yet.

yours, &c.,

SCOTCH SYMPATHY WITH THE POLES.

On Monday evening, a public meeting was held in the City Hall Glasgow, at which M. Karl Blind delivered an address on Polish and German Nationalities, At the close of the address, the following resolutions were agreed to:—1, "That Russia, by the flagrant violation of her engagements to Europe on behalf of Poland, has forfeited all right to the possession of the country; that by the despotism and confiscation under which the Poles are oppressed, the peace of Europe is constantly endangered;—it is therefore the duty of Great Britain to recognise at once the belligerent rights of Poland, and to suspend all diplomatic intercourse with Russia, until the national political rights of the Poles are satisfactorily secured."

2. "That this meeting express its profound admiration of the gallant and heroic efforts of the Poles to conquer their freedom, with such slender means, against the immense power of Russia; that it records its unqualified approval of the attitude assumed by the German people against the unconstitutional measures of the King of Prussia with regard to Poland, and trusts that the struggle may eventuate in freedom and unity to both nations; that a committee be appointed, with power to add to their number, for the collection of subscriptions in aid of the Polish cause.'

3. "That, in order to give effect to the previous resolutions, a petition based on them be presented to both Houses of Parliament."—Glasgow Herald.

LOCAL EVENTS.

THE FRENCH PACKET.—Is expected to day from Rio Jâneiro with the Bordeaux mails; we do not expect any supplements by this packet as the difficulties of transmitting such large parcels from England are not yet settled.

PRIZES.—The interesting ceremony of the distribution of prizes to the girls of public schools is to take place to-day at Colon theatre. It is a very agreeable festival and we expect there will be a great crowd.

THIEVES.—The police at Montevideo was successful in capturing a gang of young thieves in the vicinity of the market place, there were eight of them playing at cards and the oldest was only 14 years old.

WILLIAM LEES.—The benefit of this talented young man will take place at Colon theatre on Friday night, and the performances in which he most excels, Zampillaroostation: and the men of no air will be performed. As usual we suppose the house will be full.

IMMIGRANTS—Two vessels have arrived at Montevideo with a large number of French Basques, coming, on to this port. It seems that the grave denunciations of the "Echo des Pyrenees" against immigration to the River Plate, are unsuccessful in preventing these hardy and industrious mountaineers from visiting our shores.

FLORES SILVESTRES Sr Acha, Editor of the 'Pais' in Montevideo has published a volume of poetical and dramatic compositions. We have not seen yet a copy and, therefore, cannot report upon it.

THE SCOTCH SCHOOL—We publish, in another column, an advertisement respecting the above Academic institution. It affords us sincere pleasure to notice that, notwithstanding the number of new schools lately established, Mr Powell succeeds in maintaining a high degree of popularity, the Scotch school counting at present double the number of pupils ever on the books before the present master took it in charge. No pupils are employed to teach, there being experienced assistants for the juvenile classes. For English town-residents this school offers many advantages, being superintended by the worthy Scotch pastor, and situated in a central locality.

There is a report of a sale of 250 to 240 pipes tallow and 5 to 7000 salted novillo hides of which 25 per cent cows from the establishment of Almiron in the Uruguay, but we have been unable as yet to ascertain the price.

We retire to-day from the "Standard" which we joined on the 15th March 1862, and start in conjunction with a French Gentleman a new French paper called "Le Progrés" we trust our friends who have hitherto tendered us their good-will will continue so in our new enterprize and we take this opportunity to thank them for it.

At the same time it is an agreable reflection that "Standard" is every day more prosperous and is already established on a solid and lasting conditions.
